Here at GiveJet, we are in a constant pursuit of perfection. From inception, the GiveJet founders formed a team of industry veterans. We surveyed our most important clients.

These clients asked for an air charter agent that has the following attributes: safety conscientiousness that is ingrained into the spirit; social and fiscal responsibility beyond the expected; fair pricing; perks; quick response time; an exceedingly personalized & professional service available worldwide. We listen well and our delivery is even better. The result is GiveJet!

GiveJet. Our name says it all. We give all this and more!

SAFETY

GiveJet safety standards are uncompromised. We go beyond what is required. To exceed your expectations, we elevate ours. We don't utilize industry standards; we raise the safety bar to new heights.

Why? Because we know you have moved up the bar in your life to far beyond standard. And, quite simply, we believe you would expect it from a state-of-the-art jet charter service. So would we.

All aircraft in GiveJet's network are rated by the Federal government under the strict FAR part 135 guidelines. However, in addition to this, GiveJet network operators participate in an independent safety auditing program. These auditor's hold our network aircraft operators to a higher average than the federal government guidelines. This ensures that the aircraft in our network are held to the highest standards in civil aviation.
